

The image features a teal background with a faint, embossed crest of Brasenose College in the center. The crest is a shield divided into three vertical sections. The left section contains a red rose. The middle section contains a blue and white shield with a white sun and a blue banner. The right section is divided into four quadrants by a cross, each containing a different symbol: a red rose, a white cross, a blue cross, and a red cross. The shield is surrounded by a decorative border.
